THE KAISER'S SHATTERED CLAIM TO MILITARY GREATNESS

As a warlord, Kaiser William commences to look like a busted phenomenon. In the outbreak the legions of the kaiser were scheduled to perform several tremendous feats; march to Paris, clear the coast to Cherbourg, back the Russians into Poland, raid England, absorb Austria and extend the German empire to the Adriatic, the Black Sea and into Mesopotamia.

It is quite a little chore that the Kaiser had marked out for German arms, but forty-four years contemplation of the fact that in minor wars they had with France and Austria they excelled tremendously as soldiers, not unnaturally led to the belief that German arms were invincible. "The Day" was all they asked to secure their place in the sun.

All things Teutonic led to this. All Prussian diplomacy pre-supposed a time when German armies would march forth to conquest. All taxation, all industry, all education was predicated upon the belief that Germany's ultimate destiny was to rule the world. "Germany over all" was the shibboleth. For this tremendous tribute was taken from German industry to deck the cult of soldiery in shining armor; for this the whole thinking of a kindly nation was subverted and a horrible philosophy of militaristic cannibalism was superimposed. Into the minds of teachings of a peaceful and peace-loving race was deliberately inculcated a fiendish justification of ruthless might and an implacable enmity toward their nearest neighbors. Strength, valor, the power of arms were alone the title to survival.

The clash came. Belgium lay along the border line—unprotected, undefended, presumably spiritless because unwarlike—a fit and easy and inviting mark for the erstwhile German eagle which now discloses itself in the plumage of a vulture.

Launched upon a rush to Paris which was to strike terror into the heart of France, the kaiser's legions made a detour through Belgium which more than doubled the distance to the capital. "Military necessity" was the reason given, but now we know from the performance of their tremendous guns in the reduction of Belgian fortresses that even this alleged necessity did not exist; that Germans had the cannons which could have blown to atoms in no time the fortresses along the French frontier and converged upon Paris from Metz with less mileage and in fewer hours than by going out of their way to outrage a non-offending people.

What wanton insanity led the kaiser into the folly of going out of his way to brutally assault a non-combatant nation for no apparent reason than that it was unarmed and unprepared? What strange mental infirmity led him to imagine that Britain would not surge into action at the sight of an inoffensive people beaten down and ruthlessly trampled within sight of her own door? What estimate of the world's processes of thought led the Prussian to believe that the rape of a nation could pass as valor?

The outcome of the kaiser's brutal folly has been to hedge Germany on its two sides with a hedge of steel. Slowly, steadily, terribly, the pressure increases from all sides. Thousands and hundreds of thousands of German lives are being sacrificed in the vain attempt to find a weakness in the ring. Irresistibly it closes in. The greatest battles in the history of the world are being fought; but the splendid superiority of readiness to strike, which constituted the kaiser's greatest advantage, was squandered in the days consumed in crossing Belgium. The time lost was fatal. Squeezed now on all sides by superior strength, Germany is bleeding to death at the rate of ten to one hundred thousands of lives per day.

When the kaiser's actions come to be viewed through the perspective of history, the world will wonder how a man capable of the blunder of going out of his road to get into Belgium could have ever been counted better than a dunce at the war game.

ALBERTA'S SALVATION THROUGH THE GOSPEL OF WORK

While fields are being blackened by war on the opposite side of the world, there is a tremendous blackening of fields on this side as well, the extent of which is not altogether without relationship to the war now bringing such a flood of misery to those who live within its zone.

The Meteorological agency is kind to Alberta this autumn. With a crop in this section of the province which has seldom been equalled and scarcely ever excelled selling at prices which, all around, have never been exceeded in this part of the world, a late and sunny autumn is giving the farmers an opportunity to prepare enormous areas for next year's crop. Although the average closing date of farming operations has already been passed several days ago, the open weather still persists and every day is being taken fullest advantage of, each morning that breaks and each evening that closes meaning thousands upon thousands of acres added to the area which will be ready for the earliest seeding in the spring, meaning thousands and hundreds of thousands and millions of dollars that will pour into the lap of Alberta a year hence.

This war is a monstrous, terrible, horrible thing for which there can be no excuse, no reparation, no extenuation, but it at least has one redeeming consequence, which is that it is making plain to the people of this province that Alberta's salvation is through an abiding faith and a consistent practise of the gospel of work.

GOING MAD FROM THE TERRIFIC PAIN

Prominent Merchant Thinks His Life Was Saved By "Fruit-a-lives"

DAVIDSON, ONT., June 15th, 1914.—"I am a general storekeeper at the above address, and on account of the great good I have experienced from using 'Fruit-a-lives' I recommend them to my customers. They were a great boon to me, I can tell you, for about two years ago, I was laid up in bed with vomiting and a terrific pain at the base of my skull. The pain nearly drove me mad. Doctors feared it would lead to inflammation of the brain, but I took 'Fruit-a-lives' steadily until I was cured. I have gained fifteen pounds since taking 'Fruit-a-lives', and I verily believe they saved me from a disastrous illness."

BRITISH WON GREAT VICTORY NEAR COAST BUT AT TAWFUL PRICE

London, Nov. 2.—Telegraphing from Calais under date of Sunday the correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "The British army has entered a historic ordeal in checking the German attempt to advance on Calais. The German offensive has crumbled into stalemate, but the empire should know that the victory at Ypres had been purchased at a price as high as any previously recorded in battle history of the British."

"The cream of our army suffered, and the gaps must be quickly filled if the German repulse is to be turned to good account. Every time we advance the Germans seek to slacken their fire on our allies and concentrate their entire attention on the British troops. It is believed that the British had a half million Germans opposed to them in the Ypres fighting."

The only thing that is sure about many a dead sure thing is that it is dead.

STATED THAT TURKISH MINISTERS ASK TERMS OF PEACE WITH RUSSIA

Washington, Nov. 2.—Delayed messages from Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople late Saturday, received here today, say the Turkish ministers of agriculture and interior, through a neutral government, have asked the Russian ambassador before his departure what terms would pacify Russia and if an apology would be satisfactory. The Russian ambassador replied that he had instructions to leave Constantinople, but if all the German officers were dismissed from the Turkish army and he received further instructions from Petrograd, he would return.

Ambassador Morgenthau assisted in arranging a special train for the British, French and Russian ambassadors, who left Saturday night and later arranged for another special train to remove panic-stricken Americans.

Many Women Coming in From Firing Line, Wounded and Disguised

ONE GETS PERMISSION OF THE AUTHORITIES

Col. Tomilobskaya's Daughter Distinguishes Herself as a Scout

London, Nov. 2.—The correspondent of the Morning Post in Petrograd sends the following:

"Rumors persist that Przemysl, in Galicia, has been taken, but these reports are untrue. What really happened in that the Russians captured 4,000 of the garrison, with a large amount of arms and equipment when the garrison attempted a sortie. Charn and typhoid are reported to be raging at Przemysl."

"The number of women coming back wounded from the Russian front prove that the contingent of adventurous females on the fighting lines is considerable. These women as a general rule cut their hair, assume a soldier's uniform and get away secretly with the compliance of friends, among the soldiers. Others start alone on various pretexts, such as seeking injured relatives and then don male attire when they reach the front."

"A Cossack girl trooper, Helen C. Holobay, who went with the full knowledge and permission of the authorities, has long been distinguished as a horsewoman, swordswoman, and a markswoman."

"Colonel Tomilobskaya's daughter, who is in male uniform on the Augustow front, distinguished herself as a scout leader, has been wounded three times."

AUSTRIANS TAKE MANY PRISONERS INCLUDING TARTARS AND MONGOLS

STATED NUMEROUS ARAB VOLUNTEERS HAVE MADE AN ATTACK ON ITALIANS

Copenhagen, Nov. 2.—The morning has arrived for Bulgaria to re-take the territory annexed by Serbia after the second Balkan war, says Count Reuter in an article in the Deutsche Tage Zeitung, according to a despatch from Berlin. The article continues: "The solidarity of the bond between Bulgaria and Turkey is a matter of course."

Another despatch from Berlin says that Greece is rapidly preparing for war and will join with Serbia, should Turkey attack Serbia. The Turkish ambassador in Berlin states that Turkey is preparing for a "holy war" against Christians. Serious movements are reported from Tripoli, where numerous Arab volunteers have attacked Italian troops.

SERBIA IS ASKED RETURN MACEDONIA TO FORMER OWNERS

Bucharest, Nov. 2.—Bucharest on Sunday was the center of the diplomatic negotiations upon which hinge the attitude of the Italian powers toward the European war and which continue. Representatives of the allies and also of Germany and Austria are moving every wheel in the effort to gain the support of the Balkan states.

The allies are being assisted by the Greek diplomatic representatives. The latter are doing their best to persuade Serbia to turn Servia Macedonia back to Bulgaria as a reward for participation in the war on the side of the allies. In return they promise that Serbia will be permitted to annex Bosnia should the war result in favor of the allies. Up to the present there has been no result of the negotiations.

In the Canadian Rockies the traveler finds glaciers threading their way down from almost every high peak. Here the mountain chains are narrower than further south, aggregating a total width of less than 500 miles. Where the railway traverses them, there are four principal parallel ranges, the coast range, the Selkirk and the Rockies. The last two are the highest and most rugged, and it is among their heights that the snow fields and glaciers are seen to greatest advantage.

When subjected to pressure ice yields and will change its form readily, but

The glacier which is undoubtedly most frequently visited of any in British Columbia, is the Great of Illecillewaet glacier, familiar to everyone who has been so fortunate as to be a guest at a Glacier house. Since the summer of 1887 it has been observed with more or less care. At that time it covered the great bed moraine of boulders which now extends from the edge of Lying at the head of the valley of the same name, the Asulkan glacier is also favorably located, and possibly no valley in the immediate vicinity is more beautiful than this one. The glacier itself has a very fine ice fall. Its upper portions are buried deep in snow, but are easily reached under the direction of one of the Swiss guides. This glacier is also retreating in recent years with considerable rapidity. Measurements made upon its rate of flow indicate that it is moving less rapidly than the Illcillwaet.

SMALL CROWD ATTENDS FINAL DAY OF EDMONTON TURF CLUB RACING

Cory Ghost Wins Harness Event After Unsatisfactory Race—Prince Joe Withdrawn—Burt and Marcus Supply Surprise For Bookmakers, Upsetting Doze.

Racing was concluded yesterday afternoon at the Edmonton turf club. A rather small crowd being present to see the final day. The attendance at the track throughout was somewhat disappointing and the promoter had not been benefited from it as much as was hoped.

Yesterday's racing provided nothing sensational. In two of the races the favorites, Prince Phillimore and Soville won out, but in a couple of the other events, when Burt and Marcus first reached the wire, the betting public was able to grab a little money from the bookies.

One harness event was on the program, and it was a disappointing affair, unfortunately being marred by one of those antiquated incidents which sometimes occur. This was the withdrawal of Prince Joe by the owners, and the consequent placing of a bet on them of 25 horses, the trouble being an alleged bad start against Cory Ghost. Prince Joe had come in ahead in the race but was not allowed to start. The crowd was a bunch of the public's money and naturally the actions of the officials was not popular in some quarters.

Soville won the 4 harness, beating all the way through and finishing ahead of Phillimore and Burt. Burt captured the 5 harness in an easy fashion, the favorite, McElroy, being the last to cross. The six harness

CHAMPION WINNER OVER A. WOLGAST IN EIGHTH ROUND

Welsh Successfully Defends Title—Wolcast Breaks a Bone

New York City, Nov. 2.—In his eighth round bout between Welsh and A. Wolcast, the decision was awarded to the champion in the eighth round. Wolcast asked the referee to stop the fight, claiming his arm was broken.

A doctor who examined the injury announced that the arm bone was broken. Welsh then weighed in at 125 pounds at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The extension of the second round, Welsh had all the better of the bout.

During the seventh round it was seen that Wolcast was not using his right hand, and in the eighth Welsh came in with a jabbing blow, a smashing right uppercut, sent Wolcast to the ropes and Welsh was pounding him with both hands at the belt.

Wolcast returned to his corner with his right arm limp at his side. The referee examined the injury and stopped the bout.

GERMANS SUSTAIN TERRIBLE LOSSES; THOUSANDS DROWN

Estimated by Teuton Officer that 150,000 Lost in North-west Flanders.

Whole Battalions are Annihilated by Ships Shattered Regiments Given no Time to Amalgamate and They Flee.

London, Nov. 1.—The way to Bruges is now open to the allies, owing to the capture of Roulers, and the Germans are digging new trenches behind Ghent with desperate urgency. To do this is to announce their retreat.

This statement is made in a dispatch from "The French-Belgian Journal." The message continues: "The German losses have been enormous. A German officer captured yesterday, estimates that there have been 150,000 killed or wounded since the occupation of Ghent, in northwest Flanders alone. Whole battalions and divisions have been annihilated and lie far from the front. Thousands have been driven from the result of the opening of the dikes. In hand to hand fighting the German losses have far exceeded those of the allies.

"Only the main roads and railways remain open, exposed above the flooded area. The shattered remnants of the Germans are being given no time to reform and amalgamate. They are abandoning their wounded and stragglers.

"Unless their fleet comes out to create a diversion they will be driven from the Belgian coast within a week."

Sharp Defeat Kay.

Shells was in fine form, taking the lead at the start and building it to the finish. His best effort being a break of 15 points. Sullivan, on the other hand, was in poor form and did not put anything approaching a winning shot. His highest run was 10.

Two of the strongest players in the city will come together this evening when George and Maxwell meet. Last night's winner, Hobbs, 20, high run 15. Sullivan, 10, high run 10. Referee, George.

DEL IRVINE SAYS HAS NO INTENTION PLAYING ON COAST

Another "Peg Amateur" Will Stick With Monarchs—Knew Nothing Proposition

Winnipeg, Nov. 2.—An undated report from the Pacific coast is the report about Del Irvine, the star major league player of the local Monarchs, to the effect that the Winnipeg boy would likely be a member of the Portland team this winter. Del Irvine, however, Del states that he has no other from the Pacific coast. He said that he had the same chance of last season, however, that of having his expenses paid to and from British Columbia for a try out. This proposition Del did not consider seriously. In speaking to Irvine yesterday about the story from Portland, he said, "There is nothing to it. When the first time I heard anything about playing for Portland was when I looked in the paper. I will play with the Monarchs again this winter, if they need me, and hope to help them bring the Allan cup back to Winnipeg."

This statement of Del is another example of how local hockey players grab the attention of the press. Del Irvine, Every year lately several of the star Winnipeg players have been sought for by clubs, but only a very few have made the jump.

HOPPE AND NIMAN APPEAR IN CITY AT EMPIRE HALL

Play in Edmonton on Nov. 12, 13 and 14—Making Arrangements

It was announced some time ago, while Hoppe and Nibbourne (Niman) will appear in Edmonton in one of their combination games on November 12, 13 and 14, playing in the Empire billiard hall.

These two men are the best in the west at their respective games. Niman, holding the championship for the English billiards while Hoppe is the champion at back line, and when they appear in this city they are certain to be assured of a large attendance at the match. It speaks well for the confidence of the Empire management that they have signed up these two stars to come to Edmonton.

It was only after B. Young took a journey to New York and personally interviewed Mr. Hoppe that the contract was signed. Arrangements are being made to accommodate a large crowd and an amphitheatre is being built in the Empire billiard hall so that a good view of the game will be possible from all parts of the hall. Special arrangements are being made for the accommodation of the ladies, a large number of whom are expected to witness the contests.

The next game opens next Monday. There will be six games played, three of English billiards and the same number of backline, the contests being held in the afternoons and evenings.

GERMANS TRYING REACH CALAIS BY SOUTHERN ROUTE

Heavy Fighting Reported Along River Yser to Cover March South

THREE TEUTON OFFICERS SAID KILLED BY A BOMB

Thought Kaiser's Plans Are Changed to Take the Western Ports

London, Nov. 1.—"Heavy fighting is reported today along the river Yser, apparently to cover the movements of huge bodies of troops moving in a southerly direction," says a Rotterdam dispatch to the Times.

"The Germans, with ammunition wagons and guns, marched from Bruges to Courtrai today," the correspondent continues, "and there is pronounced activity among the British army. It is said that three German staff officers were killed by a bomb dropped at Thul, 15 miles south of Bruges.

Following the fierce attack against the British along the Yser, the German main force is evidently making a desperate effort to break through to Calais by a more southerly route.

Were Austrians Caught.

Winnipeg, Nov. 2.—Two German and Austrian in western Canada continue to make attempts to leave for the purpose of joining the armies of their respective countries. Eleven there have been caught at Regina. There are now 6 prisoners of war in the barracks, where they are well cared for, but closely guarded.

Scott Must FEELS AND ORGANIZED FORCES HAVE COMMON IDEA ABOUT SALARIES

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Representatives of organized baseball and the Federal league have reached one mind on the subject of players' inflated salaries, even though they are not yet ready for a general peace program, according to a statement last night by Charles Weeghman, after a long session with August Fermann, president of the national Commission.

"Club owners are tired of putting up with inflated salaries to hold their stars. Take for instance, Walter Johnson's latest demand that he be paid $12,000 for a signature on a Federal contract. That means $100 a game, assuming that he would appear in 30 full games."

Although he aimed his play directly at Boston state of mind, that position is not overly kind. It is reported to William Hodge's "The Road to Haplozem."

Sherman Get Decision.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 2.—The Sherman of Chicago was awarded the decision over Stanley Yousam, of Denver, the end of a 11-round bout here last night. They are lightweight.
